The European Management Journal (EMJ) is a generalist, academic review covering all fields of management including, but not limited to business ethics, business strategy, entrepreneurship & innovation, information systems, international business & cross-cultural studies, marketing, organization studies & general management as well as supply chain & operations management. The EMJ aims to present the latest thinking and research on major management topics in form of articles that meet high academic quality standards, while still being accessible to non-specialists.

Interdisciplinary research and cross-functional issues are particularly favored. The Journal takes a broad view of business and management and encourages submissions from other disciplines if they contribute significantly to problems considered by managers and researchers.

The EMJ is a peer-reviewed journal, with a “double-blind” procedure involving at least two reviewers.

The EMJ publishes 6 issues a year. Most articles are full length research papers but other types of submissions are welcome (reviews, surveys, opinion papers, interviews). Special Issues or groups of 3 or 4 papers (Management Focus) are published under the direction of Guest Editors.
